BOOBY TRAP

Planning on breastfeeding? Ensure you don't forget which tag you offered to your baby for breastfeeding with The Booby Tag from Ozoweizo.

This is a simple tag that you can attach to your bra strap – making life a little easier. Priced at $9.95, it's available in four colours and patterns. Pick up your Booby Tag online at larkmade.com.au.

Health first

It seems almost everyone has an iPhone these days. With so many different applications available it isn't surprising that Children's Panadol has produced one too. Free to download from the iTunes store, the app has a baby soother that features gentle melodies, a dosage calculator and a breastfeeding tracker that enables a feeding session to be recorded with a single tap. Download it at childrenspanadol.com.au/ToolsDownloads/childrenspanadoliphoneapp.aspx.

SOOTHING SOLUTION

Phytocare has developed a handy 100 percent petrochemical-free Papaya Ointment with Calendula. Formulated to soothe, moisturise and protect skin, it can be used to help with dry lips, cracked nipples, nappy rash and irritated skin. Available in 25g and 100g bottles for $6.50 and $12.30 respectively. Head to phytocare.com.au or call 1300 884 702.

Keep calm

Create a calm atmosphere for the birth of your baby and breastfeeding afterwards with Birth Time Calm. Containing plant-based ingredients, this essential oil is safe for both mother and baby. For use in the birthing room, for baby bonding or during times of anxiety, it's priced at $25. Head to babybuds.com.au or call 1300 550 742 for more information.
